2. Place each cup on its right place on the measurement mat
3. Tape your paper to the surface so it does not move while you are doing your craft. On your paper use the ruler and pencil to mark a line towards the bottom of the page that will divide the ground from the kotel. (you can also use the ruler to make the lines of your kotel.)
4. Take the light brown color and paint the background of the kotel then take the dark brown and paint the ground.

5. Take the very brown dark and paint the lines of the layers of stone on the kotel with your thin brush horizontally (make sure to draw a line of stone that will divide the ground from the kotel.)

6. Then with the same color and brush draw vertical lines up the page to make the stones, make sure to stagger the stones!

7. Take the medium brown and shade in your stones.
8. Next we are going to create the small bushes that are popping out of the kotel. To do this we are going to take the very dark mixture and our thin brush and make some swooping lines going outward and downward coming out of some of the stones.
9. To make the people, use the small brush and the very dark coffee paint. Draw figure like ovals at different points of the ground to create the people closer and farther away from the kotel

10. Let it dry and then hang up your masterpiece!
